BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF TENNESSEE:

SECTION 1. This act is known and may be cited as "Noah's Law."

SECTION 2. Tennessee Code Annotated, Title 36, Chapter 6, Part 1, is amended by adding the following as a new section:

(a) If a custody, parentage, child support, or dependency and neglect proceeding is pending before a court and the noncustodial parent fails to return the child to the custodial parent in accordance with the current visitation order or parenting plan, then the custodial parent may, after reporting the child missing to a law enforcement agency, file a motion with the court seeking an emergency order declaring the child to be in imminent danger of serious bodily injury or death and ordering the noncustodial parent to return the child.

(b) The court may issue an order declaring the child to be in imminent danger of serious bodily injury or death and ordering the noncustodial parent to return the child to the custodial parent immediately if the court finds:

(1) The custodial parent and the noncustodial parent are parties in a custody, parentage, support, or dependency and neglect matter currently pending before the court;

(3) The custodial parent has reported the child as missing to a law enforcement agency;

(e) As used in this section, "custodial parent" means the parent with whom the child resides more than fifty percent (50%) of the time.

SECTION 3. This act takes effect upon becoming a law, the public welfare requiring it.
